Re: Kelly Green # 1524456 date of Event 2/12/2013

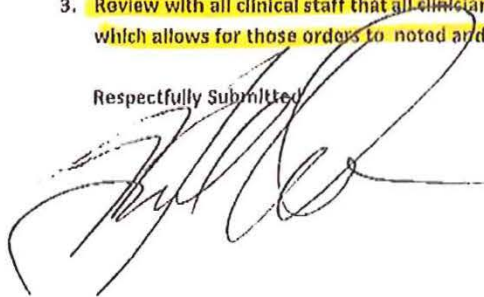

Corrective Action Plan: summary of case

A review of the care issues surrounding this case raise a number of concerns that need to be addressed. The presenting history was an inmate who had rammed his head against a wall with sufficient force to injure himself with head laceration and other less obvious injuries. He had significant bleeding and lacerations on his head that required immediate attention. Notes include observations of no LOC and no paralysis. He apparently complained that he was "paralyzed" but he was moving all four extremities. There was a charted notation of neurological examination being "grossly intact". The components of that neuro examination are missing. The charting does not mention any active testing of strength to evaluate motor function. But there was a concern about a possible cervical injury as the chart mentions the c-spine being held supported during the initial evaluation. The inmate was transported to clinic for further evaluation and treatment of lacerations requiring suturing. There are no notes that inform the reader that the c-spine was secured or that the inmate was placed on a back board during transportation. As the attached notes by Dr. Montoya and myself bear out after the patient was sutured during that time period the practitioner was informed that the inmate's release was imminent. Again the chart supports concerns on the part of the practitioner of possible neurological issues as part of the A/P was for the inmate to have neuro checks every 1-2 hours. Inherent in that request seems to be an understanding that his release may have taken hours to be completed. As the case unfolded his release from custody was protracted and during that period time the inmates' neurological status had worsened requiring immediate transfer to the ED.

Recommendations for CAPs:

1. There must be a mandatory in-service scheduled for all clinicians and clinical staff regarding the approach as well as handling of the more common head and neck injuries i.e. including the indication and use of cervical collars and back boards. The RMD and RSCM should be notified of the scheduled training and its completion by all required staff.
2. Effective immediately all chart entries must be signed / timed and dated. In this case the lack of timed documentation makes the accurate assessment of the flow of events speculative and difficult. To ensure compliance an audit of charts which reflects 10% of the inmates seen in a particular month should be completed monthly to ensure that this documentation is being done. Audit tools to enhance this process can be obtained from J. Slencak RSCM
3. Review with all clinical staff that all clinician orders must be written on standard order sheets which allows for those orders to be noted and signed off appropriately by the nursing staff.

Respectfully Submitted

For this reports I have reviewed chart notes, log notes from deputies, and verbal report from Kris White, PA

- Approximately 11:00
  - Kelly Green (Green) reportedly smashed head into wall in or around courtroom while handcuffed. Medical staff including Kris White, PA (KW) responded.
  - Chart note- untimed- Indicates patient with 2 large lacerations to scalp. Green responding to simple questions but not appropriate. Reported being "paralyzed" but moving all extremities. Also reported not being able to hear KW because "ears paralyzed".
  - Deputy log indicates Green crossed his own legs while lying on floor.
  - KW reports c-spine was non-tender on exam
- 11:15
  - After being "cleared" by KW patient transported to segregation by wheelchair
  - I believe it was at this point that his head wounds were sutured in Medical Clinic
  - Order for neuro check q 1-2 hour
  - Per KW verbal report she and temporary HSA (Vicki) indicated Green needed to be transported to hospital. They were told by deputy he would be released shortly and would get a courtesy drop-off at hospital. KW states she was not aware the patient had been housed
- Approximately 11:47
  - Deputy log indicates patient had not moved, reported to medical. Medical (nurse? not documented) asked if Green was breathing. When told he was breathing nursing informed they would check on Green later in day.
- 13:45
  - Deputy log indicated deputy again informed medical patient had not moved positions. Deputy indicates he had spoken to Green prior to that call
- 15:30

Briana,

Earlier this week, we received a letter from an attorney representing this inmate. The attorney states in his letter that his client "struck his head while making an in-custody court appearance" and that he is now permanently paralyzed. The attorney further indicates that he intends to pursue a claim against Corizon and its staff in connection with the injuries sustained by Mr. Green

From what I understand right now, Mr. Green, whose hands were handcuffed behind his back at the time, became upset during his court appearance and ran as fast as he could with his head down before striking his head against the wall. This resulted in him splitting his head open, and there was much blood on the floor of the courtroom. Following the incident in the courtroom, Mr. Green was brought to the medical unit at the jail for evaluation and treatment. Later on that same day, he was sent to the emergency room for care. He apparently was found to have a fractured neck.

Per Schuronda, this was not reported as a sentinel event by the site. Would this be an event the SE Committee should review? Or should we instead proceed with requesting a PLI review given the apparent severity of the injury sustained by Mr. Green?
